

Jennifer and Philippe Selendy Recognized as "Titans of the Plaintiffs Bar"

May 27, 2025

Jennifer and Philippe Selendy were recognized among the 2025 "Titans of the Plaintiffs Bar" by Law360. This exclusive list honors the top attorneys who have "secured billions of dollars in settlements and judgments for both classes and individual plaintiffs against massive companies and organizations."

Philippe and Jennifer were chosen for leading a trial team to a \$1.1 billion trial victory on behalf of the former shareholders of Auris Health in a merger dispute against its acquiror, Johnson & Johnson, last year. The decision found the former shareholders entitled to the largest earnout-related damages award in Delaware history.

Jennifer and Philippe are highly sought-after litigators for plaintiffs in complex multi-billion-dollar matters. They currently represent Albertsons in a $6 billion merger dispute against Kroger. They also represent the Litigation Oversight Committee to Genesis Global Holdco, LLC in two lawsuits against Genesis's parent Digital Currency Group and its founder and affiliated entities and individuals, on behalf of creditors who are owed crypto assets worth approximately $2.2 billion.
