07/23/25

Partner Temidayo Aganga-Williams was featured in a FRONTLINE (PBS) documentary for his insights into the ongoing battle between President Trump and the courts over presidential power. Drawing from his experience as a litigator and former federal prosecutor, Temidayo offers a unique perspective into Trump's efforts to test the limits of his power, the legal pushback that ensued, and the impact of these maneuvers on the rule of law.

A strong proponent of pro-democracy efforts, Temidayo previously served as Senior Investigative Counsel for the House Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the U.S. Capitol. Since then, he has authored numerous amicus briefs, including one before the U.S. Supreme Court in Trump v. United States, which argued against immunity from criminal prosecution for President Trump. His insights are regularly sought out by prominent media outlets, including CNN, MSNBC, NBC News, BBC News, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, Politico, and Law360.
